(LISTED BELOW)

DATE OF INFO. 25X1X SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO.

1. A rough sketch is enclosed* of a new road under construction from the Oxus River to Balkh and to Mazar-i-Sharif.
2. The bulk of gasoline received from the Soviet Union will be transported over this road. The gasoline is to be delivered at Termez and floated down the Oxus to Kilif, and taken from there by truck to Mazar-i-Sharif.

25X1A

Comment. The sketch is reproduced on page two of this report.

25X1A Comment. It is questionable when the road will be completed.

25X1A Comment. Afghanistan Terrain Transportation Map 10944, Map Branch, CIA, July 1948 (First Revision, December 1950) indicates a dry weather road from Balkh northwest to Dagla Arosa. The position of Dagla Arosa, on the south side of the Oxus approximately opposite Kilif, seems to correspond closely with that of Kuft on the attached sketch. It is not clear whether these roads are identical or parallel, or whether the old road is being improved.

This document is hereby regraded to CONFIDENTIAL in accordance with the letter of 16 October 1978 from the Director of Central Intelligence to the Archivist of the United States.
